

1998 Hartford Institute Geriatric Nursing Research Scholars and Fellows

1998 Fellows: (pictured above from left to right)

Deborah Chyun: PhD (cand) RN, Yale University, School of Nursing: Effects of Outpatient Interdisciplinary Intervention in High Risk Elders with Congestive Heart Failure

Elizabeth Capezuti, PhD, RN, CRNP, University of Pennsylvania: Effect of Physical Restraint Reduction on Nighttime Bedrail Use

Meredith Rowe, PhD, MSN, Decker School of Nursing, Binghamton University: Nighttime Wandering in Elders with Dementia

1998 Scholars:

Elizabeth Ayello, PhD, RN, New York University: Pressure Ulcers Prevention in Darkly Pigmented Skin

Mary Beth Happ, PhD, RN, University of Pennsylvania: Treatment Interference in Critically Ill Older Adults

Barbara Brush, PhD, RN, Boston College: the Relationship Between Pastoral/Nursing Interventions and Health Care Cost Outcomes of Homeless Older Adults

Joan E. Dacher, PhD, RN, Russell Sage Graduate School Elder Women's Narrative of Aging, Disability and Participation in a Rehabilitation Program

Philip Greiner, DNSc, Fairfield University: Self-Rated Health and Function in the Elderly

Susan Houde, PhD, RN, University of Massachusetts: Family Caregivers and Functionally Impaired Elders

Paula Milone-Nuzzo, PhD, MS, Yale University, School of Nursing: Emergency Unit Recidivism

Maria Pappas Rogich, DrPH, RN, SUNY Institute of Technology at Utica/Rome: Reduction of Preventable Hospitalizations in the Elderly

Deborah Sherman, PhD, RN, ANP, New York University: Palliative Care and Older Adults